Abstract

The researchers aimed to develop a system that can help both students and instructors for the easiness of inputting the schedules, syllabus and viewing the profile of instructors and also the schedules.

The study sought to answer the following questions: 1. What are the perception of the user-respondents on the evaluation of software quality of the Class Planner and Reminder using the ISO/IEC 25010 metrics: Functionality sustainability; Performance efficiency; Compatibility; Usability; Reliability; Security; Maintainability; and Portability? 2. What is the level of acceptability of the user-respondents in terms of the following dimensions; Functionality; Performance; Cost? 3. What is the respondent's level of recommendation on the implementation of the Class Planner and Reminder in terms of the following: Highly recommended; Much recommended; Fairly recommended; Recommended; and Not recommended

The Class Planner and Reminder was Excellent in terms of software quality based on the perception of the respondents. The system was also accepted in terms of the level of acceptability and was highly recommend to implement.

The proposed system was useful to the instructors and students.
